

It's to my understanding that the FCC has introduced a new broadcast service known as the LPFM. You'd be making a big mistake and doing the American people a great disservice if you expand this communication program. If you do, then stations like K-LOVE 100.1 (San Diego) will no longer be heard on FM Translators, and thousands of people will be very disgruntled. I need K-LOVE because for a person like me, the music is inspiring and positive; I need this music in my life! Also, if my community doesn't have K-LOVE then we will lose some of our joy and peace. It is such a special station to San Diego, our community will not be the same without it on FM. The service provided by K-LOVE is for the public interest because they truly care about us: they always go the extra mile to reach out with community events. They have brought much change to our community in the past few years. This station is truly a SERVANT to San Diego. Please don't take it away. The music has helped change my entire life, honestly. I urge you to rethink the expansion of LPFM and let K-LOVE stay on FM.
